

2007 EASTER GREETING

"Why do you seek the living one among the dead?" (Luke 24: 5)

Dear Brothers and all members of the Lasallian Family,

Easter is the feast of life and of hope. I want to wish each of you a happy Easter in the risen Christ, our life and our hope.

In just a few weeks we will begin our 44th General Chapter, which should be for us a time of life and of hope. Life and hope for all young people, life and hope especially for those who live in poverty, loneliness, without meaning, in frustration...We are called to have life in order to give life and to be men and women of hope. We are called to a life that has its foundation in Jesus, the conqueror of death and to a hope from which springs not our strength but the strength of God in whom we trust and who transforms our weakness. We are called to be invaded by the life of God made manifest in the risen Jesus and to show that life in service and in love where there is no love. I think that this is the best way to embrace the Paschal Mystery and it is my hope for each one of you.

A happy Easter to all!

Fraternally in De La Salle,

Brother Álvaro Rodríguez Echeverría
Superior General
